Our Product

Thermopanel are the Irish Distributor of Solar PST's Thermo Dynamic System, this system is set to revolutionise the way we generate hot water in Ireland, whether it's for domestic hot water, central heating or swimming pool heating, for you the installer it provides a system that is easy to install and provides great efficiencies and reliability for the consumer.

Because this system not only uses direct energy from the sun it also absorbs energy from the environment around it, this allows the panel to absorb energy from rain, wind, even if it's cloudy or overcast and yes this panel carries on working even works at night.

This system offers you the installer a leading market edge over your competitors who are currently only installing traditional solar, this product can be used as an additional product to your range or you may decide to concentrate solely on it, whatever decision you make you can rest assured Thermopanel will be there to assist you all the way.
